WHIPPING BOSS DEFENDS SELF ON STAND

Admits Lashing Boy Eight Times; Denies That Malice Existed

LAKE CITY, Fla., July 3.—Thomas W. Higginbotham, alleged "whipping boss," today took the stand to plead for his life before the jury which has heard states the witness testify that it was his seven pound lash that took the life of Martin Tabert of Muncie, N. D. Higginbotham was the first witness when the trial resumed today. "Did you whip Martin Tabert?" Higginbotham was asked. "I did."

"How many times was Tabert reported to you before you whipped him?"

"Three times."

He said that he and Tabert were on friendly terms and that no malice or ill feeling existed between them. Convict guards report the alleged insubordination of Tabert Wednesday night and again Thursday, Higginbotham said, but it was not until Friday, upon the third report that he whipped the North Dakota boy.

"Why did you whip him?" he was asked.

"It was my duty to do it. I did it," he said. He said he asked Tabert if he was sick and Tabert answered he was not.

Higginbotham then told Tabert "to get down," the boss testified, and he administered eight lashes in the space of "about a minute."

The whipping boss denied the truth of statements of state witnesses that he cursed, struck him more than eight blows with the lash and that he put his foot on the lad's back.

"Did you tell Tabert that you and an old man, Fisher, were running the whipping camp?"

"No sir."

"Did you strike Tabert 40 licks; 50; 100; 150; 200?"

In each case the answer was no. He said that after striking eight blows he dropped the lash and left it on the ground. It was a regulation strap weighing one pound and eight ounces, he testified, and did not contain steel, iron or lead, but was made only of leather.

Higginbotham said Tabert worked the rest of the week and was taken ill at 10 a. m. Sunday. He said that he attempted to get medical attention for Tabert calling on Dr. T. Capers Jones, Putnam Lumber Company physician twice. In the morning and in the evening but Jones was unable to visit Tabert until the next day. Higginbotham said he visited the boy himself at frequent intervals during his illness. Tabert died Wednesday night, the whipping boss testified, "and was given a decent burial, in a suit of dark blue worsted clothes."

FIRE THREATENS TO DESTROY VT. CITY, DAMAGE IS $150,000

HARDWICK, Vt., July 3.—Fifty families were made homeless today when fire threatened the business section. Several buildings were destroyed. Damage was estimated at $150,000.

Aid was summoned from nearby towns. Company D of the national guard of St. Johnsbury also was called out.

The fire started in a barber shop and pool room owned by Tony Roy. He was trying a large package of fireworks when it sparked from a cigarette set off. Roy and three friends jumped through a large plate glass window to safety. Communication was cut off for a time. The telephone exchange was destroyed. The 15 families were driven from their homes when two large tenement houses were destroyed.

CHARGE FRAUD IN ELECTION OF UNION

CLEVELAND, July 3.—Charges of fraud in election of officers of the bridge and structural iron workers' union were made in an application for an injunction to restrain new officers from taking their seats filed in common pleas court today by Frank Cocomal, business agent.

A temporary writ was granted. Cocomal, however, gave the new officers a vote of confidence.

Chairman J. A. Rawson, of the council finance committee presented the appropriation ordinance for the last six months of this year to the council last evening. It provides for the appropriation of $255,678.25 which is divided up among the different departments.

The general fund will receive $13,738; fire and police, $58,962; public health, $6,035; public service, $41,830; water works, $160,298.28; cemetery fund, $3,985; park fund, $2,430; street repairs and maintenance, $6,300. The amount appropriated for the water works will be paid from the receipts of that department as it is self sustaining.

Comparing it with the appropriation of the first part of the year, and it is $10,111 more. The first six months appropriation being $235,567.28. Taking out the water works item which has the largest amount of the increase, the increase of the balance of the appropriation over the previous six months amounts to $2,038.

Auditor Walter Guthman states that the deficit this year will be about $55,000 which is the same as the deficit last year. The total deficit of the city which has accumulated during the past three or four years now amounts to about $250,000, all of which except this year's deficit has been taken care of by the issuance of bonds.

Auditor Guthman also states that there will be no money in the safety, service or health department funds after August 15th when the bills are paid. The city will then have to begin borrowing money or issuing bonds to keep up those departments until the first of the year.

2 KILLED, 4 INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

MAHONEY CITY, Pa., July 3.—Two men were killed and four injured in an automobile collision near here today. The dead are: Charles Oransky of Coalvale and George Noll of Ashley.

The accident occurred when Oransky, driving a small car attempted to pass another machine and collided head on with a passenger bus.

2 EX-DRY AGENTS GET YEAR IN REFORMATORY

CINCINNATI, July 3.—Reformatory sentences of one year each were imposed yesterday upon Andrew Moore, 23, and Roy Hedges, 30, former prohibition agents working out of the Newtown liquor court. They were convicted of having blackmailed Harry Bowman, proprietor of a soft drink stand. City police detectives were the star witnesses, having overheard conversations while hiding in the cafe. Marked bills were shown in court as exhibits.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS TO SELL HOUSE

The board of trustees of the Y. M. C. A. held a meeting last night and discussed several important matters. It was decided to dispose of the dwelling on Third street that stands immediately in the rear of the Y building and a committee was appointed to look after the sale.

Ernest Crisp resigned as a member of the board on account of business duties. His successor has not yet been named.

It also was decided to appoint a committee to look up the financial situation. The failure of the community chest campaign to raise the desired amount of money caused this move to be made, and the committee will interview the chest officials and find out what their future plans are to be.

TAKE POLICE LANTERN

The police were notified that a load of baled hay had broken down on the B. & O. tracks on the Oberlin road last night and that it was an obstruction to traffic with no light on it. The police took out a red lantern and placed it on the load. This morning they found the load had been removed and the lantern had been taken along.

OREGON TRAIL PIONEERS ARE LAUDED TODAY

President Harding Speaks at 80th Anniversary Celebration at Meacham

(L. N. S. Staff Correspondent) MEACHAM, Ore., July 3.—President Harding joined here today with thousands of Oregonians in paying reverent tribute to the heroic pioneers who nearly a century ago blazed the trail to Oregon and fashioned from the wilderness then existing the great American northwest of today.

The president was the principal speaker at the celebration of the eightieth anniversary of the Oregon trail and he commended the spirit of the pioneer as worthy of emulation by the Americans of today.

Urges Conservation

The trail blazers, he pointed out, asked nothing from the government at Washington but an opportunity to try; they even had to battle against strong and short sighted opposition from the government for the opportunity to cross the uncharted wilderness and Mr. Harding read into this a pointed lesson for those of today who believe that the government ought to dip into anything and everything.

"The lesson," he said, "cannot fail to impress itself. In this test of self reliant citizenship there came the rugged, militant whole-some west."

Utmost things were wrought, larger accomplishments were recorded, greater victory was won in this wholesome, inspiring individualism than ever will attend any paternalism or government assumption of the tasks which are the national heritage of builders and who may be reserved themselves.

"The government may well provide opportunity, but the worth while accomplishment is the privilege and the duty of men."

The celebration at which Mr. Harding was the central figure was truly western and one of the most unusual that a chief executive of the nation ever participated in.

Given Big Reception

Indians, cowboys, plainsmen, miners, farmers and townspeople for miles around came to Meacham to see the president and enjoy a day of sport.

Governor Pierce headed the reception committee which welcomed the president to Oregon early in the afternoon. From the train the president and his party were escorted in con cord coaches to a large reviewing stand on which were seated many of the grey bearded pioneers in whose honor the celebration was staged. There they reviewed a colorful pageant depicting the coming of the white man into the great northwest—from 1792 on to the late eighties.

The rest of the program was an unusual one for a president of the United States. After lunch, in a tent on the grounds, a pioneer's dance was scheduled for mid afternoon, and Mr. and Mrs. Harding were listed to lead it.

Smokes Peace Pipe

Still later the president was scheduled to hold a pow wow with the Indian chiefs present and to participate with them in smoking the traditional pipe of peace, pledging anew the peace between the white man and the red.

After the pipe smoking there was to be horse shoe pitching contest billed for the "champion ship of the world," and after this contest Mr. Harding was to take on the winner in a special match.

The program concluded with a spectacular attack by Indians on a wagon trail and the rescue of the train at the last minute by United States cavalrymen. Few movie thrillers ever had any more action than the program that was laid out for President Harding here today.

The presidential special will leave Meacham late tonight for Portland, where the president will spend the Fourth and make an address at Multnomah stadium.

COLORED MAN DROPS DEAD ON ELYRIA STREET

Charles A. Smith, a colored man about 22 years of age, dropped dead last night shortly after he had eaten his supper. He was living at the railroad camp on North street, and according to information obtained by Coronado Perry and the police, came here on Friday and went to work on the railroad improvement. He came back to his boarding house last night, had his supper and went out and set down. Soon after he was found to have fallen to the ground and when he could not be aroused the police were called.

His body was sent to the Jenkins parlors by the coroner. From those with whom he had talked it is believed that he has a wife in Hamilton, Ohio, and an effort will be made to locate her. Last night a post mortem was held to determine the cause of death. It was found that his heart was greatly enlarged and it is likely that was the cause. However, the contents of his stomach will be analyzed before a verdict is given.

E. H. MARLET FINED $25; DROVE AUTO WHILE DRUNK

E. H. Marlet was arrested late last night after his machine had collided with another on W. River street. He was charged with reckless driving while intoxicated, and this morning was fined $25 and costs by Mayor Jones.

DENBY SLATED TO TALK AT DAYTON ON FOURTH

DAYTON, O., July 3.—Secretary of the navy Edwin Denby will arrive here tonight and be the guest of honor at a public reception. Tomorrow afternoon (Independence Day) he will make the address at the dedication of the Spanish-American war memorial. Following that ceremony every pilot in Dayton who can get a plane will participate in the greatest aerial circus ever staged in America.

The program, which is elaborate, opens at 3:15.

CRUSHED UNDER CAR

CINCINNATI, July 3.—Guy A. Fible, 35 years old, president of a suburban coal company, was killed yesterday when he was thrown from a standing gondola by the force of a cut of cars at his coal yard. He fell under the car and was crushed.

DEMPESEY FINALLY AGREES TO FIGHT; CHANCES $100,000

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 3.—Jack Dempsey and Tom Gibbons will fight at Shelby tomorrow for the world's heavyweight championship under an agreement reached here at 2:30 a. m. (mountain time) today by which Jack Kearns, manager of the champion, agreed to accept $210,000 already paid him and to take a chance of collecting $100,000 of the first gate receipts.

The announcement, coming just as day was breaking through the sleepy hills was surrounding Great Falls, was the greatest thrill this section ever experienced. The announcement was brief, laconic and full of news. It said very simply: "The fight is on."

Waited Patiently

All through the night Great Falls had waited, patiently, yet impatiently. Hope rose against great odds as the hours wore on towards dawn. Word came from conference rooms where Jack Kearns was closeted with different "angels" of the fight that he was standing pat—that he demanded his $200,000 or there would be no fight. But in the end came the final news that Kearns had capitulated.

A wild cheer broke out when the news reached the assembled waiters. Members of the Elks lodge, in convention here, had held a band in readiness for news. Lullabies or dirges were ready to hit the mountain air.

So, when the news came, the bandmasters flashed their signals, the horns blared, the drums rolled and human throats yelled. The wildest celebration with the memory of the oldest inhabitants was under way.

Through the streets of the town and through the lobbies of hotels a great procession wound its way and cheer after cheer echoed through the hills. Into the residential section and back into the business section, the serpentine throng roared and sang its way. Banners were flying and men dancing. Women in the throng added shrill soprano notes to the clamor.

Dramatic Fight

A novelist could have written no more thrilling tale. The telluric of it can scarcely do justice to the emotions that surged. The surrender of "no dough, no fight Kearns," was certainly fit to be called dramatic.

The proper setting for the final

HOLD COLORED BOY FOR HORSE STEALING JOB

GREAT FALLS, Mont., July 3.—"I expect to go after Tom Gibbons as I have gone after all others I have fought—at the start of the first round," said Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion today.

The champion wound up heavy training several days ago. He went on the road for a short run this morning and came up with some calisthenics.

SHELBY, Mont., July 3.—"I can beat Dempsey and will do it tomorrow. I can punch hard enough to put him out and I am the faster, more accurate boxer. I will win." That was the comment of Tommy Gibbons today when he got the news that his chance at the world's heavyweight championship was assured.

Aside from a short run and some calisthenics, Gibbons did no work today. He was to rest all afternoon today.

demise of the villain, the rescue of the old home and the closing love was built from a cloud of gloom which settled over the city early in the evening.

J. E. Lane, trustee for the fight, declared early that "it looked hopeful."

RAILROAD PROGRESS TRAIN HERE TONIGHT

Photo shows train depicting evolution of the steam locomotives; at left is seen Engine 9990, for its weight the most powerful locomotive in the world; second, "999," which broke the world's record of 112.5 miles per hour May 10, 1923, and last, the venerable De Witt Clinton train of 1831.

The first century of railroad progress will be interestingly shown in the exhibition of the "Service-Progress Special" which is being conducted over the lines of the New York Central road. This special will show near the N. Y. C. freight depot station at seven o'clock tonight. It will be here several hours and will show models of the various engines and cars from DeWitt Clinton's famous train up to the present type of the Twentieth Century Limited. There are models of the kettle, one of the "General" the famous engine of the Civil war.

The train is hauled by Mikado locomotive No. 9990, for its weight the most powerful locomotive in the world. It is assisted by old 999 which established the world's speed record during the World's fair.

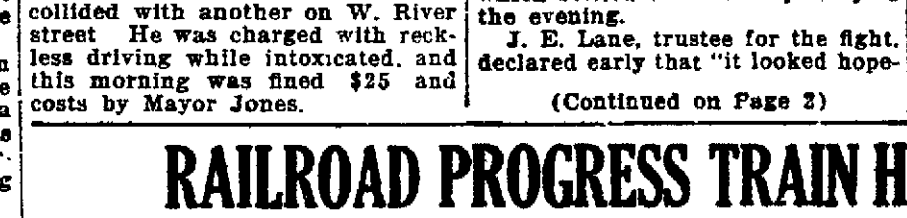

Of special interest to farmers and business men will be a series of talks on taxation illustrated by wax works.

Moving pictures will present every phase of railroading. This includes the shipping of grain, fruit and live stock from points in the middle west. These moving pictures show just how they are made up into trains and moved to the great interchange terminals and stopping places at feeding stations and icing plants and started on to seaboard destinations.

These films show the moving of these and other classes of freight in lighters to the great export terminals, where the shipments are transferred to waiting vessels for foreign export.

Then there are pictures of the handling of many kinds of farm produce; how these shipments are handled in the New York City markets; views of the railroad shops; round houses, construction forces; maintenance of way forces and a hundred and one activities that make railroading one of the most complicated of all industries.

Other moving pictures include the Grand Central Terminal in New York with its wonderful signal system; the "Twentieth Century," the world's most famous passenger train; and other features which cover this question in a more authoritative way than ever before attempted.

REVIVE ZONING SYSTEM PLAN IN CITY

Citizens Complain That Small Stores and Factories Are Ruining Residential Districts

George Hill addressed the council last night, and told them that he thought the city should take action to prevent plants from locating in a strictly residential section. He stated that a wet wash laundry was soon to be started on East Fifth street within a short distance of several houses and that it would cause a depreciation in the value of everything in that vicinity. The laundry will be on Fifth street, 1/2 block directly in the rear of Dr. Hill's home on East avenue. William Bennington who has house on the alley almost across the street from the proposed laundry also spoke on the subject.

The requests were referred to the building and lands committee and the city solicitor. Mrs. Friday spoke on the subject and called attention to the fact that she had advocated a zoning ordinance for some time and that it had been able to make any progress.

THIRTY DIE IN TRAIN WRECK

LONDON, July 3.—Thirty persons were killed and fifty injured when the Bucharest-Jassy train was wrecked today, according to a despatch from Bucharest today.

PLAN DAYLIGHT COAST TO COAST TRIP TOMORROW

DAYTON, O., July 3.—Mechanic at McCook field tonight will have fresh cargo of gasoline, oil and water in readiness for Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, who is scheduled to streak across the continent tomorrow in a Curtiss pursuit plane.

Dayton is the first stop on the daylight jaunt from New York to San Francisco, and the mechanics at the field will be on hand tomorrow to thoroughly inspect the ship during its brief stay here.

If the ship is in as good condition as Maughan says it is, there will be no delay here. "The work will not be hastily done for that might contribute to a wreck. However, it is not felt that any parts will be needed at this point," Maughan said. "The ship should be well on its way again, fifteen minutes after arriving here."

All pilots at the field are planning to give the continental jaunt a joyous welcome and a happy farewell, if he makes the attempt tomorrow as he has indicated.

All stars at the field are ready to bet a dollar to a doughnut that Maughan will set the record for the fastest coast to coast trip in a plane. He is now here waiting for a chance on leaving a doubtful.

COLUMBUS GIRL FACES TWO FORGERY CHARGES

COLUMBUS, July 3.—Miss Mary Wheeler, 23, bookkeeper, is to be arraigned on two charges of forgery in police court here today, following her arrest on a charge of issuing $5,000 worth of forged checks against the accounts of Columbus Barrel & Copeage Company.

Where she worked, and Jacob Matlin, manager of the concern. She is said to have confessed.

The alleged forgeries all occurred within six months' time, it was said. Miss Wheeler told police she bought a car and new clothes, and deposited the rest of the money in a bank to her account.

Other moving pictures include the Grand Central Terminal in New York with its wonderful signal system; the "Twentieth Century," the world's most famous passenger train; and other features which cover this question in a more authoritative way than ever before attempted.

NOT TO PAVE STREET

The street committee reported to the council last night that they recommended that Sixth street between Middle and West avenues be not paved this year as requested. The depleted city treasury was given as the main reason for the decision.

FREIGHT RATES TO BE REDUCED 50-75 CENTS TON SEPT. 17

ONE DEAD, TWO HURT IN OHIO TRAIN WRECK

AKRON, July 3.—Archie Hearne, 23, a brakeman, is dead and Ted Mathews, 30, motorman, and Ira Whetstone, conductor, are in a serious condition as the result of a wreck early this morning on the Northern Ohio Traction Company's tracks near Silver Lake Junction, five miles north of Akron. All are of Ravenna.

A Cleveland Alliance Electric Package car ran into a closed switch at high speed, left the rails and dashed into an empty train made up for Cleveland on another track.

The first car of the Electric Package train was smashed and its contents scattered about the ground. The second car was loaded with lighter goods for Cleveland and was not badly damaged.

The wrecked cars were operated by the Cleveland-Alliance Mahoning Valley Railway Company, which make use of the N. O. T. tracks at certain points.

YELLOW LINE WANTS LOOP REMOVAL DELAY

The council received a communication last night from A. D. Brown, city engineer of the yellow line, regarding the request of the city that they arrange to take care of the loop on Lorain street, when the city gets ready to change the grade and widen the street there. He asked that no work be done there until after the referendum election in August.

The city is about ready to proceed with the work and it was intimated that when the time came for the work to begin the loop would be torn up regardless of the wishes of the yellow line who have no franchise at the present time.

Officers Arrest Each Other Thru Misunderstanding

Motor Constable Collins has been doing a land office business on the Lake road in Brownhelm township where he has arrested many auto-mobilists for speeding. He has been releasing them by their depositing from $5 to $10 bond for which he gave a receipt, and ordered them to appear in justice court at Brownhelm. Some one reported that Collins was firing the motor-gun $10, and that he was a fake constable.

Yesterday afternoon Patrolman Ryan and two other policemen from Lorain, accompanied by a state auto official went in search of the supposedly fake constable. They sped along the road and were promptly spotted by Collins, who rode up beside them and said, "You're under arrest." "No we're not," replied Ryan, "but you are. Come along with us." The officers took Collins to Lorain where he at once established his identity, and was allowed to go. It turned out that the law gives him the right to accept a cash bond in such cases, so the laugh was on the Lorain police.

NEW YORK, July 3.—Jefferson, Kentucky, was not paved this year as requested. The depleted city treasury was given as the main reason for the decision.

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Substantial reductions in freight rates on bituminous coal moving from Pennsylvania and Ohio mines to Michigan were ordered by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Helps Northern States

In effect the decision ordered the railroads to establish on or before September 17, rates on coal between mines in the Middle West, Crooksville, Pomeroy and Jackson, Ohio, and the Michigan district in Southern Ohio to rates in Ohio, Indiana and Michigan, which shall be 50 cents per ton lower than the corresponding rates from mines in the same district in Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee to the same destinations, and which shall be 75 cents per ton lower than the rates from the other crescent district in Pennsylvania, Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia, Kentucky and Tennessee to Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

The decision pointed out that a substantial reduction in the average haul of coal will aid in correcting the existing serious situation in the bituminous coal industry.

"The high price of coal is an evil which all, including carriers, should endeavor to correct," Commissioner Potter said. "High prices are due mainly to high production and transportation costs. High production costs are due to the fact that the coal industry which is required to produce an average of 10,000,000 tons per week, is hampered with carrying mine development, equipment and men sufficient to produce more than 20,000,000 tons per week."

Prices Too High

"Consumers of 10,000,000 tons are paying about what under any conditions they would pay for 20,000,000 tons. Facilities for production are more than paid for. There are too many mines, too many men in the industry. Too many railroads and the rates on the railroads and the rates on the industry can be done to restore normal conditions and prices in the coal industry. A sustained increase of ten per cent of available coal transportation making it possible to that extent to use the existing surplus coal producing capacity, would create a surplus of available coal that would force prices down by probably more than $1.00 per ton. High coal prices would close, low coal prices would run continuously at reduced cost, the right number of men in the industry would have continued employment and surplus labor would go to other industries where it is needed and belongs," Potter said.

To Meet July 6

PHILADELPHIA, July 3.—In a letter to John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the general policies committee of the anthracite operators names a meeting for negotiating a new working agreement on July 6 at the Ambassador Hotel, Atlantic City.

Mr. Warriner's letter was in reply to one from Mr. Lewis requesting such action.

TUESDAY, JULY 3, 1923.

SOME THOUGHTS FOR THE FOURTH

If the main issue of the next campaign is law enforcement, in this country, and President Harding is re-nominated on that platform, and he is opposed by a candidate or candidates who are weak or vacillating, Mr. Harding, in our judgment, will be elected by almost as large a majority as he was four years ago.

The people of America know that the chief danger to her institutions is the action of groups and individuals who imagine that laws are only to be obeyed by other people than themselves, or only such laws are to be obeyed which they personally approve. And if the issue is clearly drawn between this group determining to run the country upon that plan and the others who believe in standing by the principles of liberty, a liberty which is founded upon law and its enforcement, there will be absolutely no question of the result.

Lieut. Col. Theodore Roosevelt, Assistant Secretary of the Navy, in a recent number of "Public Affairs," under the caption "What Is Americanism?" brings out some ideas along this line that are well worth reprinting, and the following are extracts from that article:

"In spite of this, at this very time, there are those in this country who, under the guise of Americanism, would debauch this prime article of our faith—liberty. What does liberty mean? Liberty means 'leave to live by no man's leave underneath the law.'"

"Liberty means the right to free speech. Free speech is a prime essential in our country. It was practiced in the New England town meeting, which underlies our Government. Any attempt to delimit it now is un-American and subversive. For example, as long as the individual advocates governmental changes through due process of law, and under the Constitution of the United States, he is absolutely within his rights, no matter what those changes may be. Any man has a perfect right to advocate that this country be turned into a monarchy or that all law be abolished, providing that he advocates these changes be accomplished by law, and not by lawlessness. Our Constitution has specially foreseen this contingency in providing in its inception the method by which it may be modified or changed. There is no excuse for the man who advocates constitutional changes by lawlessness, but neither is there any excuse for the man who would tyrannize over those who advocate changes lawfully, with which he does not agree.

"Liberty means peaceful assemblage. Peaceful assemblage has, from time to time, been jeopardized by acts of various sorts, and peaceful assemblage is an indissoluble adjunct of free speech. Anyone who strikes at it strikes at the roots of free speech also. At this time, intolerance in many forms is rife in the United States. There is the intolerance of majorities for minorities. Our institutions specifically endeavor to prohibit intolerance of a majority. The power of a majority is great, but the essence of our Government is toleration. The majority must always bear in mind that its power is given to it as a sacred trust. The larger the majority, the more essential this is, for the greater the power the more dangerous the abuse.

"Liberty means religious toleration. We hold that it is the right of every man to worship his God in the way his conscience dictates. The necessary corollary of this is that no distinction of any sort should be made between sects. When we judge a man, we must judge him as a man, and not as a follower of any particular creed. No man in our country should be discriminated against because he is or is not of a particular faith. He should stand or fall in the eyes of his fellow countrymen on what he individually represents, and on nothing else.

"Lawlessness must be met with law. If a crime is committed, it is our duty to bring the criminal to justice by due process of law. Any body or organization which takes the law into his own hands, whether it be by lynching, by beating, or by running an individual out of a community, is equally criminal with the offender. The laws were placed on our statute books by our representatives in Congress assembled. If they are inadequate or unwise, the machinery is present whereby they may be changed. It is un-American to do anything but uphold them and abide by them."

SHOWING THEIR APPRECIATION

Tomorrow at Shelby, Montana, there will possibly be a prize fight between Champion Dempsey and George. This little town of Shelby has put up now $200,000.00 as a guaranty that the fight would come off. They agree to put up $300,000.00, but after straining every nerve they got the $200,000.00 in two equal installments and nearly half way toward the third when they had exhausted the resources of the town. For a while the manager of the big bruiser after putting the first $200,000.00 quietly in his pocket, held out his hand for the balance, declaring there would be no fight unless it was forthcoming.

It is a wonderful way for any people to show their gratitude and joy over the birth of our Republic. We can imagine those men as they were discussing the momentous question of whether they should declare their independence of the mother country, reaching their decision because of some eloquent address that was delivered to them, urging that in a century and a half so great would be the appreciation felt by the citizens of America over this Declaration of Independence that one town alone, small and insignificant, out in the mountains of a distant western state, would commemorate that great event by putting up a third of a million dollars to see one big brute of a man maul another of similar kind.

Possibly this argument was used. Maybe that is the reason we have a Declaration of Independence, because there were prophets in that group and they could foresee the future. But we wonder why this little Montana town is the only place that has real patriotism. Why do not other cities in other states emulate the glorious and patriotic example of Shelby? It will be a great celebration, probably opened by a prayer of gratitude, then someone will arise and read the noble document. We wonder if Dempsey or Gibbons could understand it.

But let us not worry too much. There are few states where legally such an exhibition can take place, and it would be mighty strange if in one hundred and ten millions of people there could not be found a sufficient number whose enjoyment of this kind of sport would not be great enough to cause them to devote the glorious Fourth to the activity.

KOMICAL TELEGRAMS

By JIM ARMITAGE, Himself

Things are a lot tamer than they were in the old days, and on the Fourth of July you can tell the difference.

Used to start at daybreak and stop the next day. Now instead of having your eye shot out, you have to content yourself with listening to the returns of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight.

The Declaration of Independence should have started in the Garden of Eden, and it would if Adam had told Eve to put the apples back on the wagon.

You can sit in the shade of your front lawn and read about Valley Forge, or hitch up the filver and drive over to Valley City.

If it wasn't for fishin' and flivverin', you might just as well call the Fourth a thing of the past.

Guess its kinda went out of style after we won the war. The folks all put their flags up in the attic, and won't let 'em wave.

But we still have Christmas and Thanksgiving, even if they took our fireworks away.

Remember how you used to take "her" out for a buggy ride on the Fourth? I'll say you do and so does she. Take her out tomorrow, she won't mind the shock.

Takes us old timers to tell about the holidays. Course Mister Volstead was just a boy then and the Eighteenth Amendment hadn't started to school yet.

Lot of the kids used to get shot and their dads used to get shot half shot and they called it patriotism.

This "safe and sane" stuff may not appeal to the kids, but they're all in one piece the next day.

The "Keg of beer" has gone out of style. But there's no more in the jail on the Fifth, and the hospitals are not so crowded.

Remember how the "Prominent citizen" used to talk about George Washington for about two hours? And remember how you used to wish he'd choke?

It was kinda hard on the bartenders and the police force, but they were too patriotic to take any exception to it.

They don't fire the cannon in the park anymore, and it's all right with most of us if they never do.

Guess we're just as patriotic as ever, but ice cream soda don't give the necessary inspiration.

But long live the Fourth, Washington started it and Volstead finished it.

10 Years Ago

THE CITY CHARTER COMMISSION was holding nightly meetings regarding making a report on the commission form of government for this city.

FIREMAN DAN SCHNARR resigned from the fire department after three years service.

LESTER FREEMAN, Telegram newsboy slipped and fell into the river while fishing for minnows, and was drowned before he could be rescued. Richard Clark who was with him had a narrow escape from the same fate when he tried to rescue his chum.

THE SECOND M. E. CHURCH announced that they had arranged to hold an old-fashioned camp meeting at the fair grounds.

THE CITY BAND GAVE ITS first concert in the city park before a large audience. They were to receive $300 per year for their services.

POEMS THAT LIVE

HERACLITUS.
They told me, Heracitus, they told me you were dead,
They brought me bitter news to hear and bitter tears to shed,
I wept as I remember'd how often you and I Had tired the sun with talking and sent him down the sky.

And now that you are lying, my dear old Carian guest,
A handful of gray ashes, long, long ago to rest,
Still are thy pleasant voices, thy nightingales, awake;
For Death, he taketh all away, but them he cannot take.

—William Cory.

FOR PATRIOTISM

Country Should Be a Land of Patriotism, Says Alvin

Source of July message of patriotism is a plea for patriotism in the country.

With grateful hearts we recall the courage and fortitude of our forefathers, who 147 years ago agreed to declare in the face of a world of darkness that America was a land of free men who should govern themselves as their conscience dictated. We pay tribute to the valor of struggling colonists in their defiance of a rich and powerful kingdom.

Love of country dominated all their emotions.
"We Forget Sacrifices"
In our hurried life of this twenth century, we are prone to forget that the power and strength of our nation are derived from the sweat and sacrifices of a few men many years ago. Surrounded by an atmosphere of materialism, we have yielded to a desire for selfish comforts and pleasures. The pursuit of the almighty dollar is governing more and more the lives of our people, and we have come to take for granted the blessings that we enjoy only as a result of the words of those who lived long ago.

There is great need for a revival of patriotism in America today.
The nation is in a state of depression, and it is the duty of the citizen, who, taking advantage of the liberty and action which they enjoy, through no efforts of government, and these sacred principles and customs that have made this nation the greatest country in the world.

As we go about our daily tasks, indifferent to the message that confronts us, hundreds of thousands of foreign born arrive in this country to join their comrades. They have come to America, these un-American elements who find the majority of radicals and bolshevists who would tear down all that we have constructed during the one hundred and forty seven years and leave us nothing but confusion.

Would Restrict Aliens
The American legion is opposed to unrestricted entrance of foreign born into this country until we have successfully Americanized those who are here now. Through its 11,000 posts in every community, the legion is now engaged in a campaign to revive the spirit of patriotism and loyalty to the flag.
We are working in the homes and through the public schools, where citizens of the future are being developed.

Our world war fighters fought to preserve the free republic today and they hope that the nation's future will be in line with the established American ideals and traditions, for they have been put to the test and found worthy during all the years since that memorable day in Faneuil Hall when a band of patriots declared America an independent nation.

May that spirit which governed the deeds of our nation's founders prevail in the land today. Let us return to the firm faith, the patriotic devotion and splendid heroism of our forefathers, and renew our allegiance to the ideals of a glorified America.

DIES OF INJURIES
NEWARK, O., July 3.—Harrison Higginbotham, aged 34 years, married and two children, died in the sanitarium here at an early hour this morning from injuries sustained when the automobile in which he was riding from Utica, Ohio, to this city collided with another machine throwing him into the ditch.

H. F. COCHRAN WAS BELOVED IN OBERLIN

OBERLIN, July 3.—Dr. Helen Finney Cochran, a prominent member of the faculty, died in Cincinnati, Monday, July 2. Since 1929 she has been director of the woman's gymnasium here and was professor of gymnastics and physical education. After graduating from Oberlin in 1906 she served as physical trainer at Mt. Holyoke for one year, and at Western Reserve College for a year. She was instructor in physical training in Oberlin in 1910 and instructor at the woman's gymnasium in 1912. She completed her medical course at Cincinnati Medical college in 1916, and returned to Oberlin as assistant professor of physical education.
In 1920 she assumed her present position. She left ten days ago in apparent good health and her death is a great shock to her college associates and friends. It is understood that she was to undergo a minor operation and that she failed to rally from it.

Funeral services will be held at the home of her father, W. C.
Cochran, at Cincinnati, tomorrow.
She was a granddaughter of the late President Finney of Oberlin college, and her father graduated in 1869. Since 1901 he has been on the board of trustees. Her mother was also a graduate there as was her two sisters, Miss Mary Cochran, in 1903 and Mrs. L. M.
McDaniels, in 1912, and her brother
William S. Cochran of Cleveland.

NAB SUSPECT IN DENVER MINT
ROBBERY
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., July 3.—
After he held officers at bay in a safe with a brass ornament concealed in his coat pocket and resembled a pistol, James Cunningham, 28, suspected as one of the $200,000 Denver mint bandits, was arrested here today and held in $3-000 bail.

His description tallies with that of the leader of a group of bandits who robbed the Denver federal reserve bank last December and in escaping killed a guard. Finger prints and photographs of Cunningham were today sent to Denver.

GOOD WEATHER
WASHINGTON, July 3.—
The Dempsey-Gibbons fight will be staged under ideal weather conditions the government's officials weather man predicted today.

"Fair and moderate temperature," is the forecast for Shelby tomorrow, where the title bout will be held.

The following program has been agreed to and will be more or less carried out tomorrow in Shelby:
New Agreement
1.—The missing $100,000 to be paid out of the first gate receipts, if any, with the promoters to finance the preliminaries, the cost of the arena, the $5,000 salary of the referee, Jimmy Daugherty and the show in general.

2.—Kearns, in return, guarantees Dempsey's appearance at the scheduled hour, regardless of whether the receipts justify the step.

3.—Loy Molunby returns as promoter of the show, succeeding Major Lane, Dan Tracy and other individuals who have taken a shot at managing the affair at one time or another.

Just how much ready cash Molunby will find available for promotion purposes upon his return to Shelby today is another matter.
According to a formal statement issued by Kearns upon the premature occasion that marked calling off of the bout, there is only $4-000 in ready cash money at Shelby with debts many and pressing. He also hinted that the ticket situation was in a deplorable condition. The $5000 due Daugherty, the wages of ushers and preliminary fighters and other incidental expenses must be paid before the great fight goes on. Otherwise the second fight will be between the promoters and the infuriated creditors.

The exact number of tickets sold is not known. Stanton, when pressed for answer, said he believed the fight would be witnessed by 20,000 persons. This, if true would bring the promoters out in the financial clear, but it is significant that Stanton declined to be a party to one of Kearns' many propositions.

ISSUE NATIONAL AND STATE BANK CALLS

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for the condition of all national banks as of close of business on June 30.

REAL WEDDING AT RIVERVIEW PARK ON WED.

Elyria will be a quiet city tomorrow, as no general celebration of the Fourth has been arranged for.
However there will be plenty of entertainment at Riverview park.
Manager Worthington has arranged for a band concert, and a vaudeville performance on the midway in the afternoon. He also announces that Mayor Jones will marry a couple on the midway shortly after three o'clock. A prize of $25 in gold was offered any couple who would be married on the park grounds, and P. Grant, of Wooster, and a widow woman
from this city, whose name Mr.
Worthington has forgotten, have accepted the offer. Mayor Jones has agreed to perform the ceremony. In the evening another vaudeville performance will take place followed by a fine display of fireworks.

Cascade park will also be a center of attraction. There will be a ball game between the American Legion and the Western Automobiles in the morning, and another game between the Cubs and Canaries in the afternoon. The playgrounds will also be crowded with children, and many families will picnic there for the day.

Glen Falls, N. Y.—"For over two months I was so sick I was not able to stand on my feet, and my husband did my housework. The doctor said an operation
might be necessary, I read testimonial letters
about Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and began to take
it. Before I had finished taking the first bottle I saw what good it was doing me. I am now well and strong, doing all my work for a family of four,
all my washing and my sewing, which I think is remarkable, as I had not dared to run my sewing machine, but had done all my sewing by hand. I truly feel that were it not for your medicine,
I would not be here today as my case seemed very serious."—Mrs. GEORGE

1,000 ADMITTED TO OHIO PEN PAST YEAR

COLUMBUS, July 3.—An even 1000 men were committed to the Ohio penitentiary during the year ending June 30, 1933, according to the report of the penitentiary department. The year previous, 1325 were admitted. Of the 1000 received this year, 693 had never been in any penitentiary before, the report stated.

Ten counties in the state, Brown,
Coshocton, Deaford, Gallia, Greene, Holmes, Knox, Noble, Preble and Washington, committed no prisoners to the state prison. Cuyahoga county sent 275 prisoners, Hamilton and Lucas counties each contributed 68, Franklin county 63, Summit 51 and Mahoning 48.

Over half, 536, of the year's arrivals, were white Americans, 204 were negroes and 156 were white foreigners, according to the report.

LOW LINE WANTS LOOP GRADE DELAYED

WELLS, July 3.—The city council tonight passed the ordinance to delay the yellow line over which has been a good deal of controversy. They gave the line a delay to occupy 21st street.

STEADY WORK AGAIN

Some days I could not work all day because of the misery I was in from gas and stomach and belching, and I didn't eat anything at all. Sleep at last. I was unknown to me. I have sold and recommended by Phillips Drug Store.

with a belt line, and allow the street car people to pave but two feet of the street which is to be made 28 feet wide instead of 26. This action was taken over the protest of people who live in the street who believe the company should have their fair share of the street. They also passed the ordinance allowing a 6c fare and five tickets for 25c. A third measure passed prohibiting all motor buses from operating on streets on which a street car operates. Motor bus men will enter a protest against this last provision.

BUSINESS MAN, SULLIVAN, DIES UNEXPECTEDLY

WELLS, July 3.—John Miller, well known Sullivan man, attended the baseball game in Wells.

ington Sunday afternoon. Returning home he felt ill and stopped at the home of Dr. Thomas at Huntington. While in Dr. Thomas' office he died.

Mr. Miller had lived practically all his life in Sullivan and just a few weeks ago purchased the Hardware Store in that locality. His sudden death was a shock to his many friends.

WELLINGTON TEAM TO HAVE FAIR RIVALS

WELLS, July 3.—The American Girls baseball team will arrive in Wellington, Thursday, July 5. On that day they are scheduled to play the Wellington Athletics. A great deal of interest is being shown in the game and a large turn out is expected.

INSTALL BURGLAR ALARM

WELLS, July 3.—Workmen have completed the installation of the burglar alarm in the new National Bank. The alarm is placed directly over the front door and in plain sight of all. The alarm letters "Burglar Alarm" will inform every one on the street what the alarm is ringing for. The bank is rapidly nearing completion.

WELLS, July 3.—Mrs. Clarence Hall of Columbus, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Bradley, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kane have returned from their trip to Greensburg and Toledo.

NEWS OF THE WEEK WITH THE ELYRIA RADIO CLUB

The Elyria Radio club through president, Earl Brown, has arranged for a demonstration of the four-tube "Nightingale Set," manufactured by the Cleveland Apparatus Co.

The demonstration together with complete description will be given by a representative of the Manufacturer.

It will be particularly interesting all the "radio fans" and others know that this four-tube set sells at the remarkably low price of $30. It is capable of as much work on distant stations as any other set of similar capacity.

Another interesting feature is that the manufacturing is being carried on in the neighboring town of Grafton.

An exceptional opportunity is given our members as well as others interested in radio, to see the set demonstrated by its designer.

The club will meet at 8 p. m. on Thursday, July 5, in the basement rooms of the Y. M. C. A. building. All interested are cordially invited.

EX-TREASURY AID BECOMES MEMBER OF MORGAN FIRM

Russell Cornell Leffingwell, formerly assistant secretary of the treasury and well known New York lawyer, has entered the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co. It is believed that because of his experience in the treasury office he will have charge of the British payments of the war debt, which are being made in the form of Liberty bonds through the Morgan office as fiscal agents for the British government.

OPENING LIBERTY BONDS

NEW YORK, July 3.—Opening Liberty bonds: First 4-1-4 98.4; second 4-1-4 98.8; third 4-1-4 98.16; fourth 4-1-4 98.10; new 4-1-4 99.18.

CRYSTAL BEACH HAS MANY IMPROVEMENTS

One of the most imposing beach resorts along the entire lake front is that of Crystal Beach, owned and operated by Geo. Blanchat. Mr. Blanchat in an interview, stated that he had taken over this property consisting of 60 acres, about fifteen years ago, and by diligent application, has built it to its present standard.

There have been many new improvements made at Crystal Beach this year. One of the notable features at the park this year is that of the miniature railway train. This little railroad has a track approximately one-half mile in length and is operated by a small locomotive costing more than $1800, which is as complete in every detail as the larger type moguls.

Mr. Blanchat said that from twelve to fifteen hundred people ride this train every Sunday. There is always something fascinating about the railroad, especially to those mechanically inclined and the little locomotive offers an unusual interest to those of that inclination. The restaurant located directly below the dancing floor is one of the finest equipped restaurants along the lake, and service is of the usual Blanchat type—rapid, efficient.

United States Truck Tires are Good Tires

HERE is a line of solid and cushion tires that answers every requirement.

For trucks of 1½ to 2½ tons where almost pneumatic cushioning is desirable the new U.S. Cushion with pneumatic-type tread.

For trucks of 3 to 7½ tons doing heavy duty work the U. S. Regular Solid, High Size and Mono-Twin.

Since the lake road has been opened to traffic, most all of one's dancing friends can be found on the Crystal Beach floor, caving about to the strains of "Yes, We Have No Bananas," as some other popular dance selections rendered by an orchestra of selected players.

For those who do not care for the light fantastic, there is about five hundred yards of finest beach along the lake. Generally, the beaches, unless artificially arranged, contain rocks of all dimensions, and this was true in a measure of Crystal Beach of last year; but now in harmony with Lake Erie's peculiar inconsistency, there is a sandy stretch reaching far out into the water.

Many bathers attend this popular beach and with the present scheme of many colors, it is an unusually attractive sight, especially on a bright afternoon. You see the hundreds of hues and colors, sizes and styles, and more styles. One's impression is that Crystal Beach is where the fair bathers put her new suit to the test.

The picnic facilities of Crystal Beach can never be fully described. Plenty of shade, plenty of benches for the dinner, greenwards to have the usual athletic events and several ball diamonds.

Mr. Blanchat concluding his interview, said that he had picnic parties that have been coming to Crystal Beach every year for many years. It is a delightful drive from here to Crystal Beach, by going via Lorain and thence west on the Lake Shore road.

TOMORROW AND THURSDAY
The North Woods Drama of Fighting Men and Beautiful Women

BACKBONE

with ALFRED LUNT and EDITH ROBERTS

Talk about your two-fisted dramas of the lawless North country! Here's a picture that's packed with thrills from beginning to the last gasp that leaves you breathless. It's the story of a lad who learned that Love was worth fighting for—even though the opposition were a gang of cruel North Woods schemers who stopped at nothing to gain their ends. As a famous Saturday Evening Post story, it entertained millions. Now it has been made into an action-full picture that you won't want to miss.

ASHLAND

ASHLAND, July 2.—The Loudenville road improvement has been completed and the Lincoln Highway will be reopened the last of this week. County officials of Ashland, Richland and Wayne counties are taking steps to improve the road from Hayesville into Wayne county.

State officers were present at the district Rebekah convention held at New London.

William F. Meredith of the Denison university coaching staff, comes to Ashland college to succeed Arthur Murray who resigned to accept a coaching position with Wooster college.

COLONIAL—Everyone who has seen Barbara La Marr in the great picture, "The Hero," is told in their praise of her excellent interpretation of the charming part she assumes. It is a really dramatic and at the same time an absorbing story that takes hold of one and leaves its influence with them. In addition are a new set of world pictures and a comedy.

THEATRES

DREAMLAND—Lester Cuneo in "The Hero Hour". He plays the part of a college man heir to millions, who enlists and at the opening of the story is in the trenches. He promises to care for the son of a dying buddy, and the story shifts to a mining camp where he tries to cheat the boy out of his fortune. The hero arrives in time to stop proceedings and the story is full of exciting events that follow. Added attraction, "Fighting Blood No. 7."

GRAND—Mary Miles Minter, in "Tillie" a girl whose youth has been kept down by almost unbearable narrow-mindedness and cruelty. She is given a glimpse of the real world of books and people just as she is emerging into womanhood, which provides tremendous dramatic emphasis to a really absorbing story.

Arthur Todd, Former Elyria Newspaperman, Wedded in West

The wedding of Miss Grace Agatha Sheets, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. G. A. Sheets, of Rock Island, Illinois, and Arthur R. Todd, formerly of this city, was celebrated Saturday afternoon at four o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Rock Island, the church of which the Rev. Mr. Sheets is pastor.

The bride wore a gown of white georgette crepe and a tulle veil arranged with a ruff at the back of the head and a wreath of lilies of the valley. She carried a shower of bride's roses, sweet peas, and maiden hair fern.

The ceremony was performed by her father.

Miss Doris Todd, of Elyria, Miss Anna Eaton, of Rockford and the Misses Helen and Mabel Benjamin, of Chicago, were bridesmaids. Miss Todd wore a blue georgette dress. Miss Eaton an orchid gown and the Misses Benjamin gowns of rose georgette. The bridesmaids carried bouquets with streamers of contrasting colors.

The vows were taken amidst masses of pink and white snapdragons and roses, intermingled with ferns.

As the guests were assembling, Miss Grace Sherman, at the organ, played a program of nuptial music, including "Gondoliers" and "Venezian Love Song" by Ethelbert Nevin, "Amaryllis" by Ghys, and "Marche D'Hymenee" by Saint Saens. "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used as the processional. During the ceremony

MY HUSBAND'S LOVE

Adelle Garrison's New Phase of Revelations of a Wife

Copyright, 1934, by H. H. Garrison, Inc.

The Way Mother-Graham Diplomatically Changed Her Mind.

P ERHAPS once in 10 years or so my mother-in-law admits that she is in the wrong. Every day she fully contends that she goes to bed with a nervous collapse upon such an occasion, and that the shock to the members of her family is even more severe. But her usual method of procedure, when she has decided to reject the family circle after one of her tantrums, is magnificently to ignore the cause which sent her into matrimony.

As I came up the steps of the kitchen porch in answer to her imperious summons, I saw that she was following her usual method, with an extra touch of hauteur, prompted, I surmised, by her consciousness of the ridiculously brief time intervening between her wrath-prompted ultimatum that she meant to remain in her room until she left the house, and this sudden reappearance.

A Majestic Command.

Of course, the news of Mrs. Durkee's danger, which Katherine must have given her, was the reason for the sudden transformation. Mother Graham is generally fond of Mrs. Durkee, and out of that fact, her sterling qualities of soul, tested many times in our life together, always rise to meet an emergency. I know that she would let no rumor of her own stand in the way of extending aid to our neighbor.

That another less lofty motive was behind her sudden change of mind I recognized with a little smile, which I was most careful to hide from her eyes. But I have had so many amusing experiences of her childish curiosity and love of excitement that I knew she never could have endured being shut up in her room while anything so absorbing as Mrs. Durkee's illness was on hand.

"Come into the library," her voice and the accompanying gesture with which she swept me with her out of the kitchen, was so reminiscent of my childhood's threat for Alice, that I almost put my hand to my neck to see if it were firmly fastened on. The White Queen's mandatory command appeared the only logical sequence of my majestic mother-in-law's demeanor.

"What is this about Mrs. Durkee?" she demanded sharply when she had closed the library door behind us, and although I was sure Katherine had told her everything, she was sure of my summons of Dr. Brathwaite, I dutifully retold the whole story. She listened without comment until the end, and then asked the question which I was dreading.

"Who's going to operate?"

"I'm anxious to have Dr. Brathwaite," I said, hoping that she would believe the idea originated with Alfred, and at his request, I have just wired Edwin."

"Look at this house!"

That I had succeeded in astonishing her, I knew by her startled exclamation.

"What?"

But when I had repeated my statement, she looked at me steadily with narrowed eyes.

"You don't need to tell me that Alfred Durkee thought of that all by himself. It never would enter his head that any one so famous and important as Edwin possibly could come clear out of nowhere and now keep part of his time free could have originated that if you thought of it, it's mighty queer about the biggest man in that line."

There was in her voice the latent suspicion with which most mothers-in-law view the business of their sons-in-law. Nothing is more deadly in its consequences than a mother-in-law's association of their children's life partners. Nothing is more deadly in its consequences than a mother-in-law's association of their children's life partners. Nothing is more deadly in its consequences than a mother-in-law's association of their children's life partners.

"I do not need to be informed concerning my son-in-law's professional reputation," my mother-in-law retorted loftily. "I am perfectly familiar with it; nor do I need to be reminded of the duty to Mrs. Durkee. Of course, Edwin will come to her."

She stopped short and glanced around with a look only too familiar to me. "Edwin's soul," she said in an entirely different voice, "has been both he and Harriet will come on here for a visit, and look at this house! I have never been cleaned from top to bottom. She whirled on her heel, loudly crying.

"Katie! Katie! Where is that speck of a girl!"

Protest Wagons Holding Up Traffic

Councilwoman Mrs. Mac Friday called the attention of the council to the practice of delivery trucks and wagons of standing in the street in the congested district while loading and unloading instead of pulling up to the curb. She spoke especially of bakery wagons and grocery wagons stating that traffic was frequently blocked in this manner. It was the opinion of the members that it was up to the police department to see that traffic was not blocked, and Safety Director Henry Beck was instructed to inform the police of the situation and order them to have the practice stopped.

MASSILLON INDEPENDENTS HERE SUNDAY

I. T. S. TO PLAY LORAIN KROHNS AT PENFIELD ON WED.

The I. T. S. City team will go to Penfield Junction on the Fourth where they will tackle the strong Holly-Krohn team, of Lorain at 3 o'clock.

Manager Evans expects a fast game and will take along his best pitcher, either Hastings or Turk. The I. T. S. won from the Holly-Krohn 15 to 0 when they met at River-view park, but since that time the team has been greatly strengthened, and is now playing good ball.

Next Sunday the I. T. S. will play the Massillon Independents, a team that is known all over the State. They are a fast Triple A combination, in fact a semi-professional outfit and any team that can beat them will know they have been in a ball game.

Manager Evans is not exactly satisfied with the fighting spirit that should be in his team, and unless it develops soon there will be a shakeup. During the last two games there have been several un- called for lapses at a critical time that have caused the fans to criticize the work. The never-say-die real fighting spirit has won many games and that is a valuable asset to any team.

Sunday's game should be a hummer. The Massillon aggregation have been consistent winners all this season against some of the best amateur teams in the State. If the I. T. S. can win from them it will be a real feather in their cap and they should be greeted by a large crowd when the bell rings.

ST. AGNES TEAM WINS FROM GRACE 9

Register Six Runs in Fifth After Losses Were Leading 5 to 0

By HARRY "DOC" COOK

St. Agnes and Grace Lutheran teams played an exciting game on Monday evening, the West Siders going in to the fifth inning with a five-run deficit and returned to the bench a run to the good.

Ehrke pitched good ball, but the two errors in the fifth inning lost him in the game. Schmitt, Rose and Henke were the star batters and Wendt, Rose and Schreffler the fielding star.

The Methodists and Congregationalists will play on Tuesday evening.

Tagging The Bases

Blazing the trail to another pennant, the Yankees scored a hollow 13 to 1 victory over the Senators and now have a ten game lead. Ruth knocked out his fifteenth homer.

While the Yankees are spread eagling their field, the Giants lead is being gradually reduced. The lowly Phillies took a slam at the McGrawites and the latter now lead by only 3 1-2 games. Cy Williams hit his 22nd home run of the season.

Failing to recover from the four games they dropped to the Yankees, the Athletics lost to the tail end Red Sox, 7 to 4, Ehmke turning in his twelfth victory for Boston.

WESTERNS, LEGION; CANDIES, CUBS TO PLAY JULY FOURTH

RICHWINES TO PLAY ASHLAND ON WEDNESDAY

ASHLAND, July 3.—The Ashland Merchants' baseball team have scheduled two games of baseball with the Richwines of Elyria, a team well known to fans of this city. The Richwines play about the same brand of ball as the local team and two good, close games may be looked forward to.

Marshall Clark, of Leland Standard Union 8 U, has been announced as the hot pitcher for one of the games on the Fourth. He has been pitching good ball this season on the Western coast and will show the local fans some high class college twirling.

ELYRIA GUN CLUB TO SHOOT ON WEDNESDAY

The Elyria Gun club will have a special shoot tomorrow morning at 9:30 on the Pasadena grounds. Several events are on the program and it is expected that some of the best shooters in this vicinity will be on hand to try their skill and compete for the prizes. The public is invited to be present.

WESTERNS PLAY SOUTH AMHERST ON WEDNESDAY

The Western Automatics will travel to South Amherst tomorrow where they will play the South Amherst team at 2:30. The will meet in front of Nichols' pool room at 1 o'clock and will make the trip in automobiles.

The Browns checked the White Sox winning streak, Shocker being invincible until the ninth when Chicago scored its only runs.

Hamilton pitched good ball in the pinches and the Pirates won from the Cardinals, 4 to 1.

End the pain of CORNS quickly, safely!

This way—rid yourself of misery from corns. In one minute Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads will do it—safely! They remove the cause—friction-pressure, and heal the irritation. Thus you avoid infection from cutting your corns or using corrosive acids. Thin, antiseptic, waterproof. Sizes for corns, callouses, bunions. Get a box today at your druggist's or shoe dealer's.

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads
Put one on—the pain is gone!

TURTLE? NO!

This is a sample bed bug that may be found in this section of the state. Should you find them during house cleaning time don't worry, as it is easy to rid them with the use of the New Chemical P. D. Q. (Peaky Devils Quarters).

No matter how large they may be, color or odor or whether they come from P. D. Q. will kill them and their eggs as if liquid fire had hit them.

Not an insect powder, no dust or mists, will not injure clothing, and will actually kill Moths, Bookworms, Clothes, Bed Bugs, Fleas and Ants and puts an end-lasting to the Peaky Devils as it destroys future generations. Impossible for them to exist with the proper use.

Get from your Druggist's a size package, this will make a quart; each package contains a patent sprayer to get them in the hard-to-get-at places. Special Hospital and Hotel size makes six gallons. P. D. Q. can also be purchased in liquid form in a handy bottle with patent sprayer in each package. Your Druggist has it or can get it for you.
